Cookies Policy

ServerToday (Thailand) Co., Ltd.

ServerToday (Thailand) Co., Ltd. ("the Company") values and is committed to protecting your personal data and privacy. However, to provide quality services and a good user experience on the Company's website at www.servertoday.com or on other internet platforms such as Facebook Fanpage and Official Line account of the Company (collectively "the Website"), the Company may collect, use, and/or disclose personal data about your website visits and usage (collectively "personal data") through cookies or similar technologies when you visit the Company's website, to facilitate website usage, improve user experience, and respond to your specific needs.

This Cookies Policy explains the following details:

1. What Are Cookies

A cookie is a small text file stored on your computer or internet-connected device (such as a smartphone or tablet) when you visit the Company's website. Cookies typically record your personal data when you access the Company's website, such as name, address, email, password, IP address, phone number, search queries, and user settings (e.g., language), etc.

Cookies help the Company understand how you use the Company's website so we can improve and enhance the user experience and services for you, and better match your needs. Cookie settings help remember your usage preferences, making subsequent visits more convenient, faster, and more responsive to your needs.

2. Types of Cookies We Use

The Company may use the following types of cookies when you visit the Company's website:

- Strictly Necessary Cookies
- Site Functionality Cookies

- Site Analytical/Performance Cookies

3. How We Use Cookies

The Company collects, uses, or discloses your personal data, including your usage settings when you visit the Company's website, by placing cookies into your web browser. In this case, the Company uses cookies for the following purposes:

Cookie Category	Purpose and Description	Duration
Strictly Necessary Cookies	These cookies are essential for the website to function, including cookies that enable you to access and use the Company's website securely.	1 year
Site Functionality Cookies	These cookies enable you to browse the website and use its features, such as registration and login. They remember you when you return to the website, allowing the Company to customize content, adapt the Company's website to your needs, and remember your settings such as language, region, or font size you have selected. If you do not allow these cookies, some or all related services may not function at full efficiency.	1 year
Site Analytical/Performance Cookies	These cookies help the Company remember and count website visitors, understand visitor behavior in order to improve website quality and appropriateness, and collect statistical data about access methods and browsing behavior. They help users find what they need easily, help the Company understand user interests, and measure the effectiveness of the Company's advertising. If you do not allow these cookies, the Company will not know when you visited the Company's website and will not be able to monitor website performance.	1 year

Some cookies on this website are managed by third parties, such as advertising networks, operators of various features (e.g., video, maps, social media), and external website service providers (e.g., website analytics services). These are typically analytical/performance cookies.

You should review the cookie and privacy policies of third-party websites to understand how they may use your data.

4. Managing Cookies

You can manage/change cookie settings by accepting, rejecting, or deleting cookies set on the Company's website. You can do this by selecting cookie settings or configuring your browser, such as preventing cookies from being installed on your device by disabling them. You can disable cookies through your browser settings and privacy settings to stop future data collection by cookies (more details available at AboutCookies.org).

Such cookie settings may affect the efficiency of the Company's website, as you may not be able to use some parts of the website, or may not be able to use the Company's website at full capacity, or your usage settings may not be saved. Additionally, this may affect the display of the Company's website, which may cause it to not render correctly or completely.

5. Privacy Notice

For more information about the collection, use, and/or disclosure of your personal data, please read the Company's Privacy Notice for Visitors, published on the Company's website. This Cookies Policy is considered part of the Company's Privacy Notice.

6. Policy Updates

The Company reserves the right to change and amend this policy. Please visit this website periodically to review the Cookies Policy and other information that the Company will update on its website. Where appropriate, the Company may notify you of any changes via the email you have provided. Please read the Cookies Policy and Privacy Notice published on the website every time before use.
